

Command The Field

University of Northern Colorado Drum Major & Leadership Camp

Thank you for registering for the 2019 Command The Field Drum Major & Leadership Camp at the University of Northern Colorado. It's going to be a wonderful camp! Listed below are the items you will need to bring to registration. Please read it carefully with your parents before you arrive to the camp.

CHECK-IN

Check-in will be located at the Presidents Row Dorms outside Dickeson Hall. You may check-in between 8:00am-9:20am. Please have all forms filled out and ready to turn in (these forms include: registration if not already turned in, medical, waiver and release, rules and regulation). Any fees not already paid are due at this time. Walk-ins are accepted at registration. We will begin promptly at 9:30am on Friday, June 14. Please give yourself enough time to check into the dorms and get situated before the 9:30am start time. Bring pen/pencil and a notebook to every session including the first one. Make sure you are wearing comfortable tennis shoes for all sessions since we will be marching outside.

MEALS

Residents will receive 2 meals on Friday, 3 meals on Saturday and 1 meal on Sunday plus snacks. Non-residents (commuters) will receive 2 meals on Friday (lunch and dinner), 2 meals on Saturday (lunch and dinner) and snacks on Sunday.

FINAL PRESENTATION

We invite family, friends and band directors for a final session on Sunday, June 16 at 12:00pm. The final session will be on the Cranford lawn right in front of the UNC arched sign by Garden Theatre located beside Frasier Hall on 10th Avenue. This session will show-off various things the students learned during the camp. It will also be an awards ceremony and will conclude at approximately 1:00pm. Students may check out of their dorms and return dorm keys after the final presentation.

What to Bring

- Registration Form – with any balance of fees
- Medical Form – signed by parent/guardian
- Waiver and Release Form – signed by all parties
- Rules and Regulation Form – signed by all parties
- Your instrument
- Comfortable clothes
- Tennis shoes for marching – no sandals, flip-flops or clogs
- Hat, sunblock, sunglasses, chapstick
- Pen, pencil, notebook at all sessions
- Water bottle
- There will be one beginning mace session so if you use those in your program please bring them; maces will not be provided and if you do not use mace than you will attend a separate session
- Linens for the bed, cover, pillow, pillowcase, 2 towels (one for pool), washcloth. The majority of dorms are air conditioned and there is a bathroom for every suite (2 rooms share a bathroom).
- All toiletries including: soap, shampoo/conditioner, deodorant, toothbrush, toothpaste, SUNBLOCK, any other items you use in your daily routine
- Alarm Clock – students need to be early for every session by at least five minutes. As the saying goes, “To be early is to be on time. To be on time is to be late.”
- Swimsuit for a session on legato conducting in the pool located in the UNC Rec Center
- Optional - Whistle if you have one – not required (we will only spend a few minutes on going over proper whistle commands)
- Optional - A conducting baton if you are using one in your show – not required
- Optional – recording of a piece of music for the conducting competition – this is not required and if you choose to do the competition then the piece of music would need to be approximately 3-5 minutes in length or an excerpt of that length, examples could be your marching band show, a college marching band CD, a drum corps, etc., a score is not needed of the piece
- Optional – the scores and/or recording of your upcoming marching season if you have them; you will be given time to go over your individual show music with staff; this can be marking the score, adding cues, talking about style, conducting through the music together; if you have a recording bring it even if it's a midi file
